Free Chinese courses

Studying in Taiwan provides an excellent opportunity to learn Chinese, and National Chung Hsing University offers three types of free Chinese courses to help students enhance their language skills and immerse themselves in the local culture.

一、College Chinese 大學國文- 2 hours per week

Class for Overseas and International students (Code 1751、1752)

College Chinese is a compulsory course for all undergraduate students, except English-taught programs. These classes offer a comprehensive exploration of Taiwanese culture and literature, enhancing students' language proficiency in reading, writing, and comprehension.

二、Practical Chinese 實用華語 -3 hours per week

Practical Chinese is for international students who wish to learn or improve their Chinese language skills. Classes are available with four levels during the day-time course and evening course to meet all students' needs.

Intensive Chinese courses

For those looking for a more intense schedule, the Chinese Language Center offers courses of 15 hours per week with discounts for NCHU students.

Information about Taking “Practical Chinese” course

MUST KNOW

1. According to the criteria of each department, freshmen will need to take 4 credits of College Chinese before graduating.
2. “Practical Chinese” can help with building up Chinese ability and offers 3 credits per course.
3. PLACEMENT TEST is for international students who need 'Practical Chinese' courses, and the link for this test will be sent by the language center on July 19th. The test is scheduled to take place between July 22nd and August 2nd.
4. Students who prefer Evening 'Practical Chinese' courses must sign up for their courses in person at the language centers. Those preferring courses at other times can choose their course online during course selection according to the result of placement test.
