學校 University	東洋大學 Toyo University	國家 Country	日本 Japan
學校簡介 Introduction	Founded in 1887, Toyo University is the only private university in Japan that puts “philosophy education” into practice. Its predecessor, Philosophy Academy, was a product of the social circumstances that existed in Japan at that time of its foundation. Its founder, the philosopher Enryo Inoue, was alarmed at how the Japanese public was being swept away by rapid changes in values as new cultures from the West pressed in following Japan’s opening to the world. He thus established Philosophy Academy as a place where “philosophy education,” which enables students to develop their own perspectives and insights, is respected. Today, Toyo University’s educational slogan is “development of global human resources (i.e., 'human assets')." In light of its selection as a “Super Global University” by the Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology in 2014, it is introducing new educational programs and making further efforts to internationalize itself. Specifically, it will expand opportunities for students to engage in overseas study and exchange, actively accept students from abroad, present itself to the world through a plan titled “TOYO GLOBAL DIAMONDS: Becoming an Asian hub university for global leaders,” and develop human resources capable of succeeding on the international stage.
